

Exciting Botanical Tour to Patagonia in November/December 2025!

We're thrilled to announce an upcoming joint botanical adventure to Patagonia, Argentina, where nature and culture blend in spectacular harmony. This unique tour will take us to the provinces of Río Negro and Neuquén, exploring the breathtaking steppe and mountainous landscapes of this remarkable region.

What to Expect:

- A chance to discover an incredible diversity of plants, including the amazing rosulate violas and the much-coveted Callianthemoides semiverticillata - the holy grail of Patagonia!
- Easy access to fascinating localities with a mini-bus and gondola, making the trip both enjoyable and accessible.
- A focus on the endemic plants of the region, surrounded by stunning natural scenery.

Beyond the Botanicals:

- Immerse yourself in the rich traditional food and culture of Patagonia.
- Explore with the help of an experienced English-speaking local guide who will bring the landscapes to life with their knowledge and passion.

Note the opportunity for this unforgettable November/December 2025 tour (approximately 14 days). More details, including exact dates, booking information, will be shared soon. Don't miss this chance to experience the botanical wonders of Patagonia!

To express your interest completely without obligation and stay updated, please contact us at info@alpine-plants.com

NOTE: We depend on a minimum number of participants to proceed with the trip. Prices and complete itinerary will be announced later.

Stay tuned for updates!